

OBTAINING PERSISTENT LINKS IN CULTUREGRAMS

PROQUEST

1. Find the article you are interested in.

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the ProQuest CultureGrams website. The address bar contains the URL: https://online.culturegrams.com/libaccess.senecacollege.ca/world/world\_country\_sections.php?cid=24&cn=Botswana&sname=Greetings&snid=8. The page content includes a navigation menu, a sidebar with categories like 'Background', 'The People', and 'Customs & Courtesies', and a main article titled 'Greetings' for Botswana. The article text discusses the importance of greetings in Botswana and provides examples of common greetings and their meanings.

2. Copy-and-paste the URL that appears in the address bar into a text editor.
3. Replace everything up to .ca with:

“<https://libaccess.senecacollege.ca/login?url=http://online.culturegrams.com>”

So for the above example,

https://libaccess.senecacollege.ca/login?url=http://online.culturegrams.com/world/world\_country\_sections.php?cid=24&cn=Botswana&sname=Greetings&snid=8 is a persistent link to the article above on greetings in Botswana.

4. Test all links before posting them via email, to course webpages, etc.
