

OBTAINING PERSISTENT LINKS TO VIDEO TITLES

FILMS ON DEMAND

1. Find the film that you are interested in.

The screenshot shows the Films on Demand website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the logo 'FILMS ON DEMAND DIGITAL EDUCATIONAL VIDEO' and 'Seneca College'. Below the navigation bar, there is a search bar and a 'Search' button. The main content area displays the title 'John Szarkowski: A Life in Photography' and a video player with a play button. Below the video player, there are social sharing options: 'Email this Video', 'Add to Playlist', 'Add to Favorites', 'Embed this Video', and 'Citation'. A 'NOW PLAYING' section provides a brief description of the film and its source. Below this, there is a 'Filed Under' section with the category 'Photography'. At the bottom, there is a 'Title URL' field containing the persistent link: <http://lcweb.senecac.on.ca:2048/login?url=http://digital.films.com/PortalPlaylists.aspx?aid=4836&xtid=43413>. A black arrow points to this URL.

2. Copy and paste the Title URL into a text editor.
3. The example:
<http://lcweb.senecac.on.ca:2048/login?url=http://digital.films.com/PortalPlaylists.aspx?aid=4836&xtid=43413> is a persistent link to the film above.
4. Test links before posting via email, course web pages, etc.
